

SOLDIERS SEARCH FOR HI-JACKERS BARONESS FALLS TO DEATH FROM WINDOW

SUICIDE MAY HAVE CAUSED DEATH ON EVE OF EMBARKING

American Born Titled Woman Killed After Dinner Party

New York, July 8.—Baroness Helen Seur Muehlen, 28, of Java, Dutch East Indies fell or jumped to her death early today from her room on the seventh floor of the exclusive Ritz-Carlton Hotel. She had been hostess to a Mrs. Wealen and four men shortly before she plunged to her death.

The baroness has been a guest at the Ritz Carlton since June 25 and expected to sail for Europe today on the Benarua.

James M. Thompson said that he and Lester Conly, two of the guests, had been in the baroness' apartment, a short time before she was killed. He said that Mrs. Wealen left the room a few minutes before he did.

A representative of the hotel said he knew of no reason why the baroness would take her own life. It was not known whether she jumped or was affected by the heat and toppled through the open window.

Her body was found on the roof of the Japanese garden of the hotel, six stories below.

The baroness was American born. Before her marriage she was Helen Carruthers, of San Antonio, Texas.

NEW AIR FIELD SITE NOW ALL PAID FOR

The final installment on the 5,000 acre gift of Dayton citizens to the United States government in Fairfield upon which McCook Air Field will be re-located, was paid Tuesday when Frederick B. Patterson, president of the Dayton air service committee, signed a warranty deed for a ninety-seven acre strip of land to the government.

The final transaction was completed only after drawn out litigation. The small tract, known as May's tract, was purchased at a cost of $37,360.

Funds to purchase the entire tract were raised in a campaign. The land will house the engineering division of the army air service.

It is planned to erect a memorial to the Wright brothers on the same tract at a cost of nearly $25,000.

POSTAL RECEIPTS FOR YEAR INCREASE

Receipts during the past year were $44,182.64 while for the year ending in 1924, receipts totalled $43,692.82. The total increase is $489.82.

As expected, the postal rate increase which was effective here April 15, 1925, did not increase the revenue to a great extent.

This is the time of year for weed cutting, and Chief Graham asks the cooperation of citizens in eliminating the unnecessary evil.

RAIN HALTS GAME

New York, July 8.—Rain fell early today making the scheduled double header between the Giants and Pirates at the Polo grounds this afternoon appear doubtful. The two clubs, battling for the National League pennant, with only a single game separating them, are in the midst of a five game series.

Placed At $5,000,000

Glasgow, Scotland, July 8.—A relief fund for the homeless of a hundred tenements destroyed in Glasgow's $5,000,000 fire was started today, while firemen still were combating the flames.

The fire was under control today after destroying Kelvin Hall, the exhibition buildings, the Free Presbyterian College and Church. The latter edifice was a copy of the famous Rheims Cathedral and damage to it alone was $1,000,000.

Six fires which broke out simultaneously started the conflagration last night.

OIL LEASE CASE TO GO TO SUPREME COURT

Washington, July 7.—Refusal of Federal Judge Kennedy at Cheyenne, Wyoming, to grant the government further hearing in its oil lease annulment suit against Harry F. Sinclair, will not prevent the case from being carried to the United States supreme court, it was stated here today.

The government's petition for appeal will be filed within the next two or three weeks, according to the understanding here.

Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, who are conducting the litigation for the government, will go on to Los Angeles to appear in court there in connection with a similar suit against E. L. Doheny before returning to Washington.

CLEVELAND OCTOGENARIAN PHILANTHROPIST MULCTED OF $27,000 BY SLICK "CON" MAN

Crook Representing Himself As Secretary of New York
Candy Maker Gets Check And Disappears—
Police Notified.

Cleveland, July 8.—New York and Cleveland police today were seeking a "con man" known only as L. Baker, representing himself as secretary to W. E. Chase, of the Chase Candy Co., New York who secured $27,000 from Frank A. Arter, octogenarian philanthropist and one of the most widely known laymen in the Methodist Episcopal church in a fake stock deal.

"Baker" called Arter by telephone from New York a week ago, telling him that the Chase Candy Company was to be re-organized. Painting a glowing picture of the profits to be made in entering to the public love of sweetmeats, he offered the philanthropist a block of 900 shares of stock at 30, stating that it would reach 80 when the re-organization plan went through.

A day or so later he called on Arter at his office here and received a check for $27,000. When the stock failed to arrive Monday as promised Arter called the Chase Company, only to learn that no reorganization was planned and that "Baker" was unknown to them. He then swore to a warrant, naming John Doe, alias "Baker" and copies of the warrant have been forwarded to New York police.

STAGE UNDERSTUDY WOUNDED BY CHORUS GIRL WIFE AT PARTY

Remorse Follows Shooting
As Woman Held In Jail
In New York.

New York, July 8.—"Oh! Why did I do it—why did I do it?"

Over and over, pretty Mrs. Edith Davis, known on the stage as Edith Parker, who shot and seriously wounded her husband, Allen Davis, 25, a leading Broadway actor, moaned these words in her cell at a police station today.

"God, don't let him die!" she cried. "I love him so."

She sat in her cell with her head in her hands.

The shooting occurred last night in a bedroom of the apartment of Henry Gribble, an actor, in the heart of the bright light district. Gribble, another actor, and Davis, were about to have dinner together.

Mrs. Davis suddenly appeared and said quietly: "I want to see my husband alone."

There was an exchange of sharp words—the firing of two revolver shots. The promising young Broadway actor was shot twice.

She fled and was caught by two policemen.

At the hospital, where he was taken, Davis told detectives not to allow his wife to see him if she is released after arraignment today.

"I never want to see her again," he said.

Mrs. Davis was considered the most beautiful girl in the "Vanities of 1924."

Department

Columbus, July 8.—Pursuing the new policy of replacing women with men in enforcement of federal dry laws, Miss Jennie B. Nesbitt, Columbus, inspector attached to the Columbus offices of the Ohio Enforcement district, has been asked to resign, it was reported here today.

Action was understood to have been taken by E. L. Porterfield, federal prohibition director for the Ohio district. Miss Nesbitt was formerly an instructor at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, Xenia.

WARWICK IS GIVEN SENTENCE TO PEN

Overruling a motion for a new trial, Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy Tuesday fined Oliver Warwick, colored, this city, $500 and imposed a sentence of from one to five years in the Ohio State Penitentiary for illegal possession of liquor.

Warwick was convicted of the third offense by a jury in Common Pleas Court.

Conviction on the third offense hung on a decision by Judge Gowdy regarding the status of Xenia's municipal court. Judge Gowdy recently ruled the local court was a de facto body.

TRAFFIC BEACON TO BE DONATED TO CITY BY AUTO CLUB SOON

Officials of the Greene County Auto Club plan to formally present the city of Xenia with a modern flash traffic signal to be placed at Main and Detroit Streets, at the regular City Commission meeting Thursday night.

The General Electric Company, of Lynn, Mass., manufactures the signal.

The signal, installed, costs $550 and it is planned to give the traffic device a sixty-day trial at the Detroit and Main Street intersection to replace the flower box.

The signal is a standard make flashing seventy-five times a minute with automatic and hand control. It is said to be the latest form of traffic regulating device.

The signal is equipped with red, yellow and green lights. The standard ratio is thirty seconds red, five seconds for the change and thirty seconds green.

The device is mounted on a tall iron pole set in a substantial concrete base.

Members of the commission have been given an opportunity to view the signal.

PIGEON IS FLEET

Defiance, July 8.—First honors in the 515 mile race from Lebanon, Mo., to Defiance went to "Morning Glory," crack racing pigeon owned by John Scheuerman of this city, when his bird reached the home loft after 15 hours and 35 minutes of actual flying.

SALINAS MERCHANT KILLED BY LIQUOR BANDITS IN ESCAPE

Sheriff Injured — Cavalry
Troops From Monterey
Joining Attack

Salinas, Cal., July 8.—Land forces — cavalrymen from the Monterey Presidio, the Fortieth Tank Company of the California National Guard and civilians from towns adjacent to Moss Landing, near here — joined hands today to run down beligerent hijackers who killed one member of a posse last night, injured two peace officers and drove county and state police to cover by fire from a machine gun.

At sea, coast guard vessels were warned to guard against any attempts on the part of the hi-jackers to use the sea as an avenue of escape when they are forced from their inland retreat by Federal and civil forces.

The fight came with dramatic suddenness. The hijackers were gathered at an unfrequented spot on the shore of Monterey Bay to intercept an anticipated landing of a liquor cargo. A posse started out in response to a plea for help from Harry Livingston state traffic officer, who had driven a shot-shattered automobile into Watsonville, near here.

As they approached Moss Landing they were surrounded by a number of men, and their only warning was the terse order, "Shoot 'em," after they had established their identification for the hijackers.

N. H. Rader, merchant of Salinas, pressed into service by Sheriff W. A. Oyer, was killed.

The liquor runners, reported off shore, made no attempt to land their cargo.

Sheriff Oyer is in a hospital here with a shattered knee, and Livingston, who made the appeal to the Sheriff, is the third man injured.

Two major encounters in the dark were reported, the hi-jackers assuming the offensive in both.

PLANS FOR FISH AND GAME PICNIC LAID AT MEET TUESDAY

Tentative arrangements for the annual picnic of the Greene County Fish and Game Protective Association, were laid at the meeting of association members at Central High School, Tuesday night.

No definite date was planned for the picnic, but it is thought it will be held either Wednesday, July 19 or July 26. Plans are to hold the event at the Kelter Grove, southeast of Xenia.

The day will be featured by a picnic dinner, and games, contests and various events. The association will buy the prizes for the contests this year, instead of soliciting the merchants or the county, as usual. M. C. Smith and Harry Richards were appointed members of the prize committee.

About 1,200 persons, members of the organization, their families and friends are expected to attend the picnic.

Another meeting will be held in two weeks when further plans will be worked out.

The two agents were each accused of firing two shots after the fleeing run runner.

CHAUTAUQUA OFFERS DEMOCRATIC CHANCE TO MINGLE SOCIALLY

In addition to individual pleasure derived from attending the various attractions of the seven days of Chautauqua in Xenia, July 12-18, there is the added zest of social enjoyment.

This thing of getting out under the big Redpath tent and mingling with one's neighbors represents the Chautauqua idea that was called by Roosevelt "the most democratic thing in America." Here at Xenia it will be democratic in time on one evening at least, when Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the famous Commoner, will tell of her experiences with the British army in Palestine during the late war.

It is well known that the good people of Xenia never fail to put over those enterprises that they once undertake. Local citizens, with the interest of the community at heart, have underwritten the Chautauqua, in order that the city might have an opportunity for clean uplifting, entertainment of the high quality. Season tickets, if purchased from the local guarantors before Chautauqua opens are only $2.50 and children's tickets $1.25.

Guarantors will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Court House for the ticket check-up.

RESERVES TO PLAY MOHAWKS SUNDAY

The Xenia Reserves will play an important game with the Springfield Mohawks Sunday afternoon at Washington Park diamond.

The Mohawks are said to be one of the strongest semi-pro baseball machines in Springfield and demonstrated their skill last Sunday by handing the Bowersville Bayliffs a stinging 1 to 0 defeat.

Since it is altogether possible the Bayliffs and Reserves may clash before the season is ended in a championship game, the Sunday game should give fans a line on the respective strength of both Greene County teams.

Nolte, the Reserves' new moundman, is slated for work on the hill Sunday.

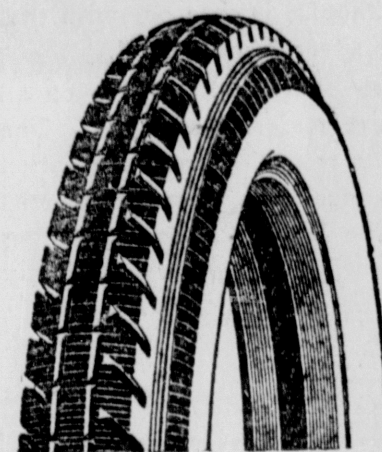

MAY, CANCEL LEASES

Ortowa, July 8.—Putnam County farmers have won their fight to cancel leases with the Ohio Power Company and to prevent the stringing of power transmission cables and the erection of steel towers on their land. Settlement was made out of court, by counsel. The farmers contended the leases provided that the wires should be strung 90 feet above ground, but that actual construction showed them only 30 feet above ground. They also said plowing about the towers was so dangerous that land for a half acre about each tower could not be cultivated.

PUBLICITY FOR SMUGGLERS.

BRIG. GEN. LINCOLN C. ANDREWS, the new assistant secretary of the treasury, lost no time in reversing the customs service's policy on general smuggling. Full publicity hereafter will be given to the findings against smugglers. Secrecy heretofore has been maintained in all save a few cases.

The lady returning from Europe who conceals a diamond ring in the heel of her shoe, if caught, can expect no longer to keep her name out of the papers. The same applies to others who secrete other jewels in the bodies of dolls and all of that ilk who for one reason or another seek to evade the payment of legal duties.

Such conduct on the part of petty, non-professional smugglers—for that is what they are—is impelled by a variety of motives. Some of them do it frankly and solely to escape payment of the duty. Others yield to the temptation because, if they succeed in it, they appear clever in their own eyes and they boast of it afterwards. Others, of a certain class it sometimes seems reasonable to assume, try it in the hope or reaping the advertising from being caught. With still others the impulse is on a par with that of making away with souvenir silver from a hotel.

Whatever the motive, Gen. Andrews has hit upon an efficacious remedy for the great majority of cases. The society leader or respected citizen returning from a vacation abroad and who thinks to slip some "trifle" past the customs house probably would rather be labeled almost anything else than a smuggler. To all such the new dictum plainly says: Beware or take the pitiless consequences.

SMITH CHALLENGES COOLIDGE.

SPEAKING before the Conference of Governors in Poland Springs, Me., the other day, Gov. Smith of New York made what may be called a national political address, directly challenging President Coolidge's claim to a wonderful record economy for his administration. In his recent speech before the heads of executive departments of the Government the president called attention to the fact that federal expenditures for the fiscal year just ended represent a reduction from those for the fiscal year ended in 1921, the year in which President Wilson retired, of $2,081,000,000. "The history of public affairs will hardly show a parallel case of retrenchment in the cost of government," said the president.

Pointing out in detail that the reduction due to the fact that the country is no longer on war basis, as it still was in 1921, Gov. Smith declared that to claim credit for it is just like claiming credit for good weather or good crops. He showed that $1,882,590,000 of the reduction is due to the abandonment of federal railroad control and European food relief and the decrease in the cost, incident to the return to a peace basis, of the army, the navy, the shipping board and the alien property custodian and that the remaining $198,410,000 is referable to the cancellation of other war expense items. "If such retrenchment is without parallel," he said, "it is because no war ever cost so much and made possible such decreases in changing from a wartime to a peace basis."

Gov. Smith is one of the few great public servants, honorable, just and with an extraordinary grasp of public affairs. All that he says on this subject of the unparalleled reduction in federal expenses since 1921 is true in a general way and no doubt the correctness of his detailed figures is demonstrable. And yet President Coolidge rightly stands in the popular mind as the personification of public economy. Gov. Smith himself said that he did not wish to detract at all from whatever actual results the federal government has accomplished in the way of saving the public money. Actual results of great importance have been accomplished. When public expenditures have gone up in an emergency it is terribly hard to get them down again anything like their former basis. The reduction of the government's budget to the point now reached represents courage and determination of no mean order on the president's part. He lost some of his contests with Congress on the question of public economy but he has won some of them and he keeps on fighting. He perhaps has accomplished more for the taxpayers in this respect than any other man in his position could have accomplished, for his public policy accords exactly with his private policy and his evident sincerity in this matter has captured the imagination of the people and enlisted the power of public sentiment on his side to a remarkable degree.

"Please tell me how to make Chicken Patties," writes a Bride Reader of this column. "I do so long to be able to make this delicious dish for guest meals." Two other women have also asked for this recipe, which I shall try to put into very simple terms for the inexperienced housewife.

To Make Patty Shells: The housekeeper who learns to make these shells, may fill them not only with a chicken mushroom combination, but also with oysters, with creamed sweetbreads or simply with crushed and sweetened fruit. They are made of Puff Paste, as follows: Measure out two and one half cups of pastry flour, add one half teaspoon of salt and sift onto a bread board. Now cut one and one half cups of butter into this flour (doing the work right on the board) using only a knife. When the butter is almost entirely blended with the flour except for a few large floured lumps, remove these lumps to one side. Stir in one scant half cup of ice water (this should moisten but not make the dough really "wet"), then sprinkle a little more flour over the mixture.

little more flour over the mixture.

roll it out to one half inch in thickness, and place several of the floured lumps of butter on this.

Fold one half of the dough over the other, pressing edges together to enclose air, and roll out in oblong shape; place the remaining floured lumps of butter on this, double dough again, then flour slightly, fold three times (that is, up from either end) and put on a plate to chill in the refrigerator for one hour. Unroll the same way you rolled, and cut out with a round cookie cutter (I assume that the dough is about one fourth inch in thickness.) Do not roll again after chilling. Place several of these discs on a piece of brown paper in a baking pan, and on top of each disc put a ring of puff paste the same size as the disc—by "ring" I mean another disc from which you have removed a circle three quarters of an inch in diameter from the center. Wet the edges of the bottom disc before placing this ring upon it. Now wet the top of this ring and put upon it still another ring, the same size.

When you bake these shells they will rise and be flaky. The oven should be hot and the shells remain in it from 25 to 30 minutes. When done, fill with ordinary Creamed Chicken to which you have added a few mushrooms.

TO WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter pint of the most wonderful skin whiteners, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

ECZEMA

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S.S.S. are really amazing!

MANY people imagine that eczema or better needs only some external application on the skin in order to get relief. This is because the attention of the sufferer is so violently directed to the intense burning and itching which accompanies this disease. Try as they may, permanent relief will never be theirs until the disease laden blood is thoroughly cleansed.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema and that is more red-blood-cells! S.S.S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it. Skin eruptions, eczema, with all its fiery, skin digging torture, and its soul-tearing, unreachable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of Nature! S.S.S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826.

S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body strengtheners known to us mortals! When you put these facts together—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. S.S.S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S.S.S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs eczema, clears the skin, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, and gives you that more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Today's Talks

NOT OF IT

Innocence is very beautiful—in a picture—but intelligence and knowledge is what makes up a useful life. Each one of us is called upon sooner or later to walk through muddy ways, to taste of bitter dregs and to share the lot of much that is sour and sordid. But we do not have to be a part of this.

The lily isn't a part of the black, muddy pond. It rises out of its dark bed and kisses the rich and golden rays of the sun and gives of its perfume to a world that is full of sweetness for those who desire sweetness.

I recently read an interesting book by W. H. Hudson. It is the story of a girl who was brought up under conditions most discouraging, conditions which surrounded her with all that was unbeautiful and sordid. Her mother tells her a secret—but only just a little. She entreats her mother to tell her more.

"I can't tell you any more, child," says the mother. "Go to bed and forget all about it. You hear bad things enough in the street, and it 'ud only put badness into your head to hear of such things."

"Mother," says the girl, "I hear bad things in the street every day, but they don't make me bad."

And so that child of the story strives and rises to a good, happy and useful life.

It is better by far to know what not to do than to do what you should not—not knowing.

Our power of choice and selection is one that is God given. Christ never side-stepped the soiled specimens of the mart. His enemies even tried to tie to His name the epithet "The friend of publicans and sinners." But that is exactly what He was and He was proud and glad of the chance to be just that. But He was not of them.

No man is worthy the name who is not a man among men—there to help and serve.

Weaver, will have the same power in selecting members as the boards of education and township trustees.

PITCHING "PASTS" BOOSTED BY MANY OF BASEBALL'S STARS

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, July 8.—If, as alleged, a rolling stone gathers no moss and an old dog does not learn new tricks, then the business of baseball today would be bereft of some of its headline figures. They would either be pitchers of doubtful status or, failing there, would have turned whatever talent they possessed into other, if less lucrative, channels.

The outstanding example, of course is George H. Ruth, the well-known ball player. He was a great left-hander, pitcher at the outset of his major league career, but hit too many home runs to follow his original occupation. At that, many condemned Ed. Barrow for making Ruth over into an outfielder, claiming that a fine pitcher was being ruined. That was true, but a finer hitter was being created.

If Barrow had listened to the volunteer ball players, baseball would have been without its most notable figure and Ruth quite without his $52,000 salary.

GEORGE KELLY ANOTHER

He is not the only case in point, however. It is surprising, in fact, how many of the present-day stars started in the box and thought better of it. George Kelly, of the Giants, easily the best all-around ball player in the majors today, came to McGraw as a pitcher. He was what is technically known as a bust.

But McGraw must have seen some spark of genius in the young man, for he sent this gangling gent to the International League with instructions to make him into a first baseman. Neither McGraw nor Kelly ever regretted this decision, although Kelly later had to live down a season of boobying that greeted his every appearance at the Polo Grounds. The fans lost sight of the genius concealed beneath his rather ludicrous exterior.

George Sisler was a pitcher at Michigan and came up to the American League as such. However, he began to hit from the drop of the hat, and his pitching days ended rather abruptly.

SAM RICE "REFORMED"

Sam Rice, of the Washington Senators, also thought he was a pitcher, but Clark Griffith changed his mind for him—to his everlasting gratitude. Griffith did the same for "Jimmy" Jamieson, later to become one of the league's leading outfielders with the Cleveland Indians. Jamieson is not doing so well this season, but he never stops trying.

Bill Terry, of the Giants, and Rube Bressler, of the Reds, also are ex-pitchers. So is "Buster" Gehrig, who recently divorced Wally Pipp from the Yankees' initial bag.

In brief, if these men had followed their original bent, baseball would have had plenty of mediocre pitchers at the expense of other departments of play.

KING SOLOMON MAY OR MAY NOT BE JEW BUT CAN SURE HIT

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, July 8.—Old King Solomon, we understand, was the gent who signed up for better or worse with a thousand sparring partners. In spite of this rather obvious error, he was alleged to have been a very wise citizen who knew his way about town and seldom was hit by the horse cars.

At that, he was nothing less than a moron compared with King Solomon 2d. The latter's sparring partners are strictly male, monogamous and guaranteed not to bite. Furthermore, the young man doesn't bother avoiding the horse cars. He avoids getting hit on the chin and makes it pay him well.

He is a boxfighter. Some who have seen him step may doubt this assertion, but we have it on the word of no less than Joe Woodman that such is, indeed, the case. Joseph is the King's manager.
INSISTS HE'S JEWISH
He also does that worthy's thinking and talking, and in this capacity declares himself on what he calls the following facts:

That, to the best of his knowledge and belief, King Solomon 2d is of Jewish extraction in spite of insinuations to the contrary.

That he was born in Panama of a Jewish father and Spanish mother; that he is 23 years old, 5 feet 11 inches tall, and weighs 185 pounds even in a strong light.

That his real name is Emilio King Solomon and that he, Joseph Woodman, cannot help it.

In this manner Mr. Woodman hopes to avoid further contumely, which has been heaped upon him by those who seem to resent the fact that the King claims to be Jewish and looks like a Greek peddler. Seemingly, a great wrong has been done here and Mr. Woodman would make amends.

NO APOLOGY FOR RECORD.

He need not apologize, however, for the King's record, which to date shows him in twenty-five bouts without losing a decision. Twenty-four of them, according to Joseph, resulted in victories and the other in a draw.

Since coming to America the royal sock-dodger has won four fights, beating Quentin Romero Rojas, Mike Wallace, Sailor Tom Maxted and Ad Stone. He gave the latter his first defeat and altogether seems to be a rather plausible prospect.

He is fast enough for a big man, has a good left hand and hits with combined assets. How far these combined assets will carry him remains with the more or less immediate future.

MODISH MITZI—Aunt Sophia Gets a New Dress or Two

By JAY V. JAY

"So," concludes Mitzi, "Dad will be here with us for at least two weeks." "Mmm, yes, so he wrote me," says Aunt Sophia. "What a fascinating new negligee you have, georgette crape isn't it?" says Mitzi, wondering if there is any connection between Dad's coming and Aunt Sophia's new clothes.

"Aunt Sophia, what a perfectly adorable printed silk that is and how stunning you are in it!" exclaims Polly. Aunt Sophia certainly has acquired the best looking wardrobe. This dress has a tie collar the ends of which reach to the hem of her skirt.

"Now Aunt Sophia," says Eleanor, "if you wear another new dress we shall begin to get suspicious." "Non-sense, child," says Aunt Sophia looking the other way, "at my age, how ridiculous you are." Nevertheless the rosebud crown of her hat and the old rose georgette dress are very handsome.

This time Mitzi and Polly aren't saying a thing. They are just looking well, just looking wise. Aunt Sophia has sprung another new dress, a long lacy one with a flower at the hip. And Dad, hot and tired from the city, is admiring the entire effect. Sophia is certainly handsome, wonder he never really appreciated it before.

"NOT POSSIBLE TO CLASSIFY"

BY MACK SAUER

COURTESY TO GUESTS

Well, a Clifton woman writes me to the effect that her husband's thrice-removed cousin isn't so far removed but what she has been buzzing in her bonnet to the effect that she is going to finish out the summer with her cousin and his family in Clifton. So the good woman wants a few hints on fixing up the guest room.

Now in the first place, when a thrice-removed cousin comes to help you clean up everything there is to eat around the house, the most important thing to do is to place a chair in the guest room for clothes to be thrown across. If there is a closet in the room, be sure that every hook is taken. Then tack a sign on the door—"Stay out—this means you."

Usually in a guest room there will be found a bureau full of love letters, unpaid bills, stick pins, safety pins neck ties, etc., that have collected through the years of married bliss or otherwise. Never remove any of the articles but lock every drawer in the bureau and then hide the key under a brick in the barnlot. Some have seen fit to further protect their valuables by nailing the drawers shut, but I hardly consider this necessary.

In case the thrice-removed cousin is unwilling to remove herself from the hay until ten o'clock in the morning, I suggest this plan which I have used to advantage on several occasions. Tie a rope to the covers before the old girl hits the shucks any night and leave one end hang out the window. As soon as you get out next morning hitch your Ford to the rope and start down the pike, pulling the covers behind you. Then the sleeping beauty, if any, will pile out.

For pictures in the guest room, I suggest railroad time tables with out-going trains underscored in red. Have plenty of restaurant ads pasted on the walls. She may take the hint and eat out.

When she has departed, call in your little boy and have him play "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," on a mouth organ. You all join in on the chorus.

LET HIM HAVE IT

I have a good sized brick to throw at him who says: "I told you so."

BRINGING UP FATHER

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER 89.

"There were some bonds in the envelope, mother. But don't let us keep you up. We'll probably find it in the morning." Lilah smiled, and kissed her mother.

Mrs. Pharley left the room doubtfully. She knew that all was not as represented. The first question she asked when she saw Michael in the morning was, "Did you find the envelope?"

"Not yet. I haven't looked for it much. This was not strictly true. He had gone over all the places in the house that Lilah might have absent-mindedly placed the bonds, and he had questioned Sally Warbe. The latter averred she had not seen such an envelope in dusting Lilah's room.

"I'm going to call the police," Michael announced privately to Lilah just before they sat down to breakfast.

"But dear, how could they know anything about it?" "Stranger things have happened. We'd better let them know anyway, so if anyone tries to sell the bonds, they can nab them. If they warn all the bond-dealers and banks in town, they'll know if the bonds change hands, because I think I can give them the numbers. My mother probably bought them through her broker and he has the numbers."

"Well, let's breakfast," she was white and nervous. For her it had been a sleepless night. Michael was unruffled.

Lilah got him alone after they had their cereal, eggs, bacon, toast and hot milk.

"Dear, will the police have to come here?"

"Yes, of course. They'll want to see the room and the desk and look around. They may be able to see traces of a forced entrance that we can't find."

"I wish you could keep them from coming while Mother is here. I don't want her to know about your mother's bequest, and if the police come, she'll be sure to get the whole story."

"Try to get her out of the house some way. I'll stay here until the police come."

But Mother Pharley was very much present when the representatives of the law, two detectives of portly proportions, arrived. There had been no way of getting her out of the house.

Michael had stated the facts of the case as briefly as he could, while the detectives viewed him skeptically. When he had concluded, one of them asked him bluntly:

"How many bonds was they?" He hesitated, then answered, enjoying the effect of his announcement upon Mother Pharley. "There were $25,000 worth all of them negotiable, as I said. I haven't the numbers, but I think I can get them."

"How long have you had them in the house?"

"Two weeks."

"Tuh get 'em from a broker?" "Well, not exactly. It was like this—" He told of the bequest.

The detectives eyed each other. Mother Pharley stared at her daughter.

"Got any servants?" was the next question of the portly detective.

An Out of Town Woman Motoring Through Xenia

the other day passed our show window,— was interested and came in.

She was astonished that a town the size of Xenia had a store which carried so complete a stock, that prices were so low and also at our taste in selecting furniture.

Here's the explanation—

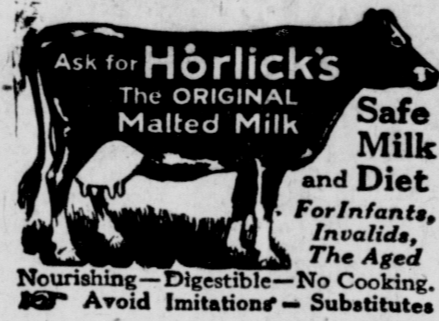

Although we naturally serve Xenia and Greene County, pleased customers have recommended this store so often to their friends that about 25% of our business now comes from the near by cities, necessitating a large, varied and complete stock—

Prices are low because we own the store property, paying no rent and we do not give expensive commissions to high pressure salesmen—being located in Xenia all other expenses are much lower than in a large city.

Having been in the furniture business for almost 40 years we know just where to buy furniture that is well made—in good style and at the same time what families of moderate incomes can afford.

Because the fruit is fully ripened under the hot tropical sun it has a rich, luscious flavor that fruit picked green and shipped cannot have. Experts select and superintend the canning of "E" BRAND PINEAPPLE and every big golden slice is smooth and fine in texture and perfectly tender. You never find any coarse, stringy, tasteless pineapple in a can of "E" BRAND. Instead it brings you all the rich, sweet, unequalled flavor of this favorite tropical fruit as fresh and perfect as the day it was gathered. Try it—compare it—see how much better it is.
